

3R Class Story for World Book Day:

The Food Fighters vs Burnious, the Ferocious Fire Breathing Dragon

One windy afternoon, there were two Superheroes named Joe and Lulu who were walking along The Thames to do some shopping. They called themselves The Food Fighters. Little did the citizens of London know, these twins had a very special power; they could shoot robotic food out of their hands! Just as they were about to finish paying for some cakes, they looked out the window and saw a ferocious fire breathing Dragon destroying the city of London! He was perched on top of Big Ben, roaring fiercely and breathing hot, red flames of fire onto the London Eye. The people on the streets started to scream and run for their lives. But not Joe and Lulu. They knew exactly what to do!

“My name is Burnious and my mission is to completely destroy the city of London!” exploded the dragon, who was getting angrier and angrier by the second. He started flapping his enormous, brown wings and flew up into the sky where he disappeared amongst the clouds.

The Food Fighters knew that they had to find and capture the dragon before he did any more damage to the city.

“He must pay for his crimes,” stated Joe firmly, “and we are the only people that can stop him.”

“I agree,” nodded Lulu, “but where do you think he has gone?”

The Food Fighters used their powers to create the longest ever piece of spaghetti that would lead them to the Dragon. They followed the thick, yellow strand of spaghetti and it eventually led them to an ancient cave in the middle of The Dazzling Gleam, an enchanted forest not far from London. Surrounding the cave, they could see dozens of bright, sparkly pairs of eyes glaring at them from all sides. The normally calm and happy creatures that live in The Dazzling Gleam suddenly looked very angry and ready to attack.

“I bet Burnious cast a spell on them to stop us from finding him,” whispered Lulu.

One by one, the creatures from the enchanted forest emerged from the shadows. There were unicorns and wolfwalkers, angry elves and so many other enchanted creatures that all looked furious. Joe and Lulu stood back to back and got their hands ready.

“We don’t want to hurt them Lulu, we just need to stop them from getting too close to us while we go into the cave,” murmured Joe.

“We need something sticky. Something to hold them in place. How about super sticky chewing gum?” Lulu suggested.

The Food Fighters pointed their hands towards the enchanted creatures of the forest and blasted their feet with as much chewing gum as they could produce. The unicorns could no longer move their feet, the elves were propelled back into the trees and became stuck, and the other creatures were all glued to the forest floor. Joe and Lulu finally started moving slowly towards the entrance of the cave where Burnious was hiding. It was very dark inside the cave, until suddenly, Burnious started blowing fire at them! The flames allowed Joe and Lulu to see exactly where the dragon was in the cave, and the magic wand that he had placed on the floor next to him. They held up their hands and pointed them towards Burnious. Joe created some karate chopping carrots and shot them at the dragon first. Lulu blasted the dragon with some punching potatoes and blinding bananas. This distracted Burnious for long enough that Joe could grab the magic wand that he had used to cast a spell on the other creatures in the forest.

As quickly as they could, Joe and Lulu started running towards the exit of the cave. Burnious was quickly catching up to them. As they got closer to the exit, Joe lifted the wand and used it to cast a spell on the cave so that Burnious could never leave it. They dived out of the cave and watched as Burnious pounded on the invisible barrier that was holding him inside. At the same time, they also dissolved all of the chewing gum that was holding the enchanted creatures down. They all ran away, looking very scared as the dragon continued to roar and try to escape.

Two hours later, the exhausted Food Fighters returned to London and presented the magic wand to the Mayor, Mr Bonson. Together, they used the wand to repair all of the damage that Burnious had caused, and Mr Bonson held a special ceremony where he gave Joe and Lulu two gold medals to say thank you.
