

Tiny Turquoise Riding Trousers' by 4R

Once upon a time, there lived Tiny Turquoise Riding Trousers who lived in space and floated in mid-air. Space was empty and pitch black and Tiny Turquoise Riding Trousers liked to bounce on the stars.

One day, a star blew up and left Tiny Turquoise a note in the galaxy that read 'Grandpa has lost his glasses, please help him find them'. Floating through space to Grandpa's, Tiny Turquoise spotted huge planets that he had never seen before. What he didn't realise was there was a green, slimy alien following closely behind him. This alien liked the look of Tiny Turquoise so he wanted to get to him to have some lunch.

On the way to Grandpa's, the alien used his super power 'terrific transportation' to get to Grandpa's before Tiny Turquoise. Once he got there, he put on a disguise so that Grandpa wouldn't recognise him. He wore a dress, tights and lipstick to convince Grandpa that he was a lady in distress. The naughty, manipulative alien pretended that his cat was stuck in a tree and needed Grandpa's help desperately! Unknowingly, he already sneaked in and stole Grandpa's wig and threw it to the top of the tree to convince Grandpa it was the troubled cat.

Whilst Grandpa was busy saving the 'cat' (which took him a long time since he lost his glasses), the alien stepped inside and waited for Tiny Turquoise. The alien didn't know, but Tiny Turquoise had powers of his own. He knew what the alien was up to and used his flower power to turn him vegan to avoid being eaten!

Alien decided that veggies are best and chose not to eat Tiny Turquoise or Grandpa. Instead, they took a sunny vacation to Dubai where they ate lots of vegan dishes.

They all lived happily ever after!

The End.
